

Please, I implore you not to allow this technology to be implemented. The risk of harmful interference is just too great. Broadband is available to most people who want it with currently available technology.